BASEBALL

BOSTON UNIVERSITY vs. NORWICH

University Field, May 2nd at 3 p. m.

Admission—50c

This will be the first appearance of a Boston University athletic team in this section. They are represented by a strong baseball team having scored an 11 to 6 victory over the Boston college team, and also held the heavy hitting Holy Cross aggregation, who scored 14 runs against Yale, to 6 hits and 3 runs. Although we lost our first game by a 6 to 3 score the Norwich team is one of the best in years and is much stronger than this score would indicate, and this game with B. U. promises to be a first-class attraction.

"Barre Granite" in its latest issue, the May number, under the column head of News and Views, publishes a bit of news that is especially interesting to granite men when it says: "Northern New York is already supplying one firm in the Barre district with a fine variety of green granite, and now another Barre concern is investigating the possibilities of a red granite found in the same section of the Empire state. Samples brought to Barre have been found to take a high polish."

At the special meeting of Barre council, No. 401, Knights of Columbus, yesterday afternoon, John J. Hartigan of 62 Maple avenue was elected deputy grand knight to succeed Frank J. Shea, who resigned from the office yesterday. Mr. Shea tendered his resignation two weeks ago because of the pressure of business as president of the Barre Merchants' association and as exalted ruler of the Elks lodge in Montpelier, B. P. O. E. No. 924. Mr. Shea's successor is well qualified to fill the office, having been grand knight of the council for several terms.

Regular meeting of post, No. 10, American Legion on Wednesday, May 4, in club rooms. Let every member be present. Per adjutant, J. B. Stewart.

on a banjo which he had brought with him from India.

In the second part Dr. Osborne came as a delegate from his Indian village of outcasts, beginning of the missionary information on this new teaching of Christianity, and pleading for preachers to go to his village and help appease the sufferings and persecutions which his people were undergoing as a result of their proclaiming themselves of India. The missionary had none to spare and could not go himself. Rev. C. W. Kelly, playing the part of a Mohammedan, intervened at this point branding the Christians as liars, who never sent preachers, and proclaiming, "Allah is God and Mohammed is his prophet." The villager was forced to leave his missionary, but just following his departure a cablegram was received for the missionary bearing the news that the century had succeeded and that another missionary was to be sent right away and also money so that he might hire 10 native preachers.

The whole idea of the pagan, Dr. Osborne defined, was to give the people some idea of the conditions in India, the lack of missionaries, the longing of the people for a better religion, the persecutions and the strength of the Mohammedans, the relation of the century to the christianizing of India and the sure safety of infinite help from the people of America.

Ordination Service.

Yesterday afternoon the ordination services for elders and deacons and the consecration of deaconesses were brought out a great gathering of people from near and far. Many had journeyed to Barre from the neighboring towns and villages early in the morning to hear Bishop Hughes' sermon in the morning worship, and they remained through the afternoon to witness the ordination, a service which is seen in the same place only very occasionally.

Bishop Hughes presided at the ordination, assisted by District Superintendents Rev. W. R. Davenport and Rev. E. W. Sharp, and, in addition, at the elders' ordination by ordination helpers, Rev. A. W. Webb and Rev. W. B. Dukeshire. Albert Abbott of Sheldon and Walter W. Cook of Evansville were ordained as elders.

The services had a closer relation to many Barre people in that Mr. Abbott having journeyed to Barre from Cornwall, England, about 15 years ago, was for a time employed in Barre as a granite cutter. He lived in this city many years before going out to preach the gospel, and while here he was a member of the Methodist church of Barre, seems altogether fitting and proper that he should be ordained into the ministry at the church he first attended upon arriving in America from England.

E. L. Goddard of Cabot, H. M. Hayward of Ludlow and B. L. Rogers of Waterville were ordained as deacons and were conferred the deacon's orders. Ethel May Ard and Mearle Hoppeck were consecrated as deaconesses.

All ceremonies were very impressive and carried out under the strict quiet of the congregation.

Yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the women's home missionary society of Barre held their 19th annual convention at St. Albans presiding, Mrs. D. B. Street, national secretary of the society, spoke on her trip to Alaska last summer, defining the wealth of that Arctic territory in respect to both commercial prospects and natural beauty, and told of the sad state of affairs, and the immediate need of mission workers.

The conference love feast was held yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, presided over by Rev. A. H. Webb. At 10:30 regular Sunday morning worship was opened. Bishop Hughes preached the sermon on the responsibilities of parenthood to their children, and the need of the Christian home for the church.

Montpelier Seminary Banquet. Saturday evening was devoted entirely to Montpelier seminary and to the Montpelier seminary Epworth league institute. At 6 o'clock the Montpelier seminary supper was served. Several students from the seminary were present who later responded to toasts. Bishop Hughes was toastmaster and the program of toasts and entertainment was as follows: "The Dynamic of a Burning Heart," Rev. E. W. Sharp; vocal solo, "The Light," Miss Alice Manton Pattilli; "Study and Class Room," Ruth Langdon; "Play Life," Ralph O'Hear; "Moulding Influences," Ralph O'Hear; "My Path," Ralph O'Hear; "The Light," Rev. W. R. Davenport; reading, "The Light of the God and the Diddy," Irene Peck; "Memories of Montpelier Seminary," Dr. Frank L. Goodspeed; vocal solo, Paul Howard Hatch.

At 7:30, Rev. C. W. Kelly of Newport Center, dean of the Montpelier seminary Epworth league institute, presided and introduced as speakers four men, Amos Betts, father of the Lassell Epworth league institute, Professor M. A. Dawber of Boston university, Dr. J. W. Hatch of Montpelier seminary and Rev. B. G. Lapsley of the institute and urging registration for the institute which is to be held in Montpelier this year the week of June 27 to July 4.

In his address later in the evening on the occasion of the third annual convention of the Epworth league, Professor M. A. Dawber, M. A. of Boston university, brought out seven points. First he told of the necessity of great church work during this period of reconstruction; secondly, that it is time for the preaching of the gospel of hard work; thirdly, that there is a downward trend in the good influence of home life which should be remedied; fourthly, there must be a re-affirmation of the presence of God in society; fifthly, the adjustable morality must die out and there be a revival of the personality; sixthly, a program of conservation of energy; seventhly, conservation of energy is as fully important as one of conversion, and lastly, there must be a more personal relationship with Jesus Christ. Rev. F. W. Lewis presided at the meeting.

Next Conference at Bellows Falls. On Saturday afternoon a short business session cleaned up the business of the conference. It was voted to have the next annual conference at Bellows Falls, no date having been set. Rev. C. Quimby, Rev. W. B. Dukeshire and Lyman Carl Brown were elected as trustees to the anti-saloon league. Rev. H. O. Martin and Rev. W. E. Douglass were nominated trustees of the New England Historical society of Boston.

Reception to Visiting Ladies. At the same time on Saturday some 70 members of the ministers' wives' union were entertained at the home of Mrs. L. D. Martin of Averill street by the ladies' and pastors' union of the Barre Methodist Episcopal church. Members of the executive committee, Mrs. C. H. Kenerson, president, Mrs. Earle Batchelder, and Mrs. Thomas Cave represented the ladies' and pastors' union. At this meeting, Mrs. B. G. Lapsley of Barre was elected president of the ministers' wives' union.

A short program was carried out for the entertainment of the ladies and later light refreshments were served. Before leaving the ministers' wives extended a hearty vote of thanks to the Barre ladies for their splendid entertainment.

The order of the program was as follows: Duets, Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Martin; recitation, Miss Barbara Lane; violin solo, Marjorie Smith; vocal solo, Mrs. Harry Fisher; reading, Miss Eva G. Smith; piano solo, Mrs. Nichols. Bishop Hughes was a guest of honor and he addressed the ladies briefly.

During their stay in Barre the ministers and visiting laymen have been taken care of for breakfast and rooms at many Barre homes. Their dinner and supper have been served in the fine new dining room of the Methodist church by a circle of ladies from the ladies' and pastors' union, aided by recruits from the entire feminine side of the church.

To the Prospective Purchaser

A telegram received from Dodge Brothers, Detroit, Mich., to A. D. Hayes—"Any statements that Dodge Brothers have reduced or intend reducing prices is absolutely false. Dodge Brother shave always bought most advantageously and manufactured economically and to-day our manufactured stock is held at to-day's replacing values.

"Since our first cars were marketed seven years ago we have increased our prices less than any other manufacturer but one and during that time have added improvements which alone offset the increased price. We positively know that we are giving honest values and therefore can see no sound business justification for any price reduction."

TALK OF THE TOWN

Congregational Philathea, attention! Regular monthly business meeting and social Tuesday evening at the church parlors. Members are at liberty to bring their own work; only come.

Leo Bessett, traveling salesman for the granite firm of Anderson & Friberg of Barre, after a three weeks' trip, visited his mother, Mrs. Alice Bessett, of West street over the week end and left again last night for the southern and western states in the interests of the firm.

L. Jean Bissée and Clarence Bissée went to their home in Watfield yesterday to visit. Mr. Bissée returned to the city last night to resume his duties with the N. B. Phelps Co. this morning, but his sister plans to visit a week at her home.

The game between Spaulding and Montpelier seminary, which was to have been played next Wednesday at Lincoln campus, has been postponed until Thursday afternoon at the request of the seminary coach. Since the game between Spaulding and Burlington, which was to have been played last Saturday at Lincoln campus, had to be cancelled on account of weather conditions, the game Thursday will be Spaulding's first home school game of the season.

EAST BARRE

Funeral services of the late George Rogers, who died at his home in East Barre Tuesday, were held last Friday. A prayer service at the house at 1 o'clock preceded the church service at the Orange church at 2 o'clock. The pall bearers were all sons of the deceased.

ceased: Clyde Clayton, Percy and Claude Rogers. Three selections were sung by Mr. and Mrs. John Emerson, "Come Unto Me," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The remains were interred in the family lot in Orange cemetery.
